

Higher Ground Leadership – A New Story, A New Way

Becoming a Higher Ground Leader may be the most life-changing choice you have ever made! It's about being a loving and courageous leader - not just doing leadership "stuff." From a business perspective, it's about transforming organizations into sanctuaries that nourish the soul. To put it in classic coaching terms, it's about WHO you are, not just WHAT you do. You will quickly see that Higher Ground Leadership is different from anything else you may have experienced at CoachVille. Join the Higher Ground Leadership Community at CoachVille.

Destiny, Cause, Calling – Your Why, Be, Do

On page two you can begin to define your own Destiny, Cause and Calling. Below is information to help you understand each component and how it impacts a Higher Ground Leader.

Destiny

Have you ever thought about your Destiny here on this earth? If you were asked about your Destiny, would your response flow freely, or would you be a bit tongue-tied, feeling that Destinies are reserved only for famous people? Finding your destiny is about exploring your purpose on this earth. For Higher Ground Leaders this means having a divine purpose that is connected to a higher power, and which gives us a deeper sense of who we are. This is what allows us to be fully present as conscious human beings, and therefore, able to inspire others.

Cause

Have you ever wondered how you will BE in your life, and what you stand for? People who inspire develop a vision so compelling that it becomes a magnet for passion – a Cause. They do not try to motivate – they invite inspiration with a passionately held Cause. They combine visceral energy with a clear and focused vision, founded on strong spiritual beliefs and values. This combination radiates a light so bright that people find it irresistible. Exploring all that you stand for will bring you clarity that can act as a magnet to attract others along your path.

Calling

Shhhhh... Take a moment and listen; do you hear a siren or a whisper? Our Calling sings to our heart throughout our lives. Sometimes it sings loudly, like a siren, and sometimes we have to listen very carefully. Our Calling is the intersection of our passion and our talents and an awareness of their relevance and applicability to our Cause. If polished and practiced with Mastery, your Calling will help you gain the traction necessary to move your Cause forward in the world. Experiencing the process yourself will help you know your own Calling and support others in finding theirs.

Establish Yourself as a Higher Ground Leader

Learn more about the Destiny, Cause, and Calling of your life (i.e. The Why-Be-Do) and other qualities of Higher Ground Leaders at CoachVille's Higher Ground Leadership Community. Learn more the Destiny, Cause, Calling classes or other parts of the HGL program at CoachVille. Access complimentary resources, join our learning program, and participate in our events from our webpage at – <http://dbc457.cvcommunity.com>. Get inspired by reading Destiny, Cause, Calling statements of other Higher Ground Leaders at Lance Secretan's website – <http://www.secretan.com/php/why-be-do/view.php>.

THE WHY-BE-DO WORKSHEET

Note: Completion of this Worksheet will not produce a Why-Be-Do, but it will be a very good start.

Destiny (Why I am here on Earth)

What, do you believe, are the most serious physical, spiritual, or emotional threats to humanity and our planet (we use the term "Terrathreats") that, unless reversed, endanger our future?

Cause (How I will Be while I am here – what I will stand for)

What do you believe in? What are your values? How will you use these to change the world?

Calling (What I will Do and how I will use my talents and gifts to serve)

What are your greatest talents? What do you love to do so much that it fills your heart with joy? Where do your greatest talents and passion intersect?

